Responsibilities of directors for the financial statements

As explained more fully in the directors’ responsibilities statement set out on page 7, the directors are responsible for: the preparation of the financial statements including being satisfied that they give a true and fair view; such internal control as they determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error; assessing the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern; and using the going concern basis of accounting unless they either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor’s responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor’s report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (Ireland) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

A fuller description of our responsibilities is provided on IAASA’s website at <https://iaasa.ie/publications/description-of-the-auditors-responsibilities-for-the-audit-of-the-financial-statements/>.

The purpose of our audit work and to whom we owe our responsibilities

Our report is made solely to the Company’s members, as a body, in accordance with Section 391 of the Companies Act 2014. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the Company’s members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor’s report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the Company and the Company’s members, as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Strategic Investment Funds UCITS Plc – Bramshill UCITS Income Performance Fund Investment Manager’s Report (unaudited)

The Bramshill Income Performance UCITS Fund navigated through a year marked by significant volatility and challenging market conditions, ending the year with a return of +6.89%, while the Bloomberg US Aggregate Bond Index ended the year with a return of +5.53%. As we reflect on the performance of the Fund throughout 2023, it's evident that our disciplined investment approach and opportunistic allocation decisions played a crucial role in achieving positive returns.

Review of Quarterly Performance

The Fund encountered various market dynamics and economic headwinds throughout the year, with each quarter presenting its unique set of challenges and opportunities.

In the first half of 2023, despite a strong start to the year with January being up +2.68%, heightened volatility in both interest rate and credit markets led to a return of -0.55% and -1.60% for the months of February and March respectively. Despite the turbulent start in Q1, our steadfast commitment to our investment process enabled us to maintain stability and insulate the portfolio from a significant drawdown.

As the year progressed, we remained vigilant in assessing market conditions and identifying opportunities for strategic allocation adjustments. In June, the Fund outperformed expectations, returning +0.49% for the month and +1.48% for the first six months of the year, demonstrating the resilience of our portfolio structure amidst market fluctuations.

During the summer months of Q3, we focused on building a portfolio which allowed us to not only collect a high current yield, but also position us to withstand potential volatility. September proved to be a challenging month in both the fixed income and equity markets. In September, the Fund experienced a total return of -0.91% as fixed income and equity markets faced significant volatility. Despite the headwinds, our proactive approach to managing risk and capitalizing on emerging opportunities helped mitigate losses and maintain positive returns even within a very challenging interest rate environment.

The Fund performed well in Q4 because of the repositioning of the portfolio in September and October. Entering 2023, we were cautiously awaiting opportunities because we believed the economy was strong and the Fed would aggressively hike rates in 1H23. At that time, we believed caution was appropriate as the opportunity set on most US fixed income was marginal at best due to interest rate risk and thus, we maintained significant liquidity and a very short duration. In September, however, we determined that inflation was waning, the economy was beginning to slow, and the Fed had shifted to a more neutral stance. We started reducing our cash/ST US Treasury position and extending the duration of the portfolio. In October, we were able to allocate significant capital as prices in certain long duration corporate bonds had moved substantially lower. In November and December, the portfolio benefitted substantially from this opportunistic rotation out of cash/ST US Treasuries into long duration investment grade corporates.

For November and December, the Fund delivered a strong performance, returning +4.38% and +2.83%, respectively, for those months and closed the year with an impressive +6.89% return. Our strategic allocation decisions, particularly in investment grade corporates and short duration securities, contributed significantly to the Fund's success in capitalizing on market opportunities.

Strategic Allocation and Investment Decisions

Throughout the year, our allocation strategy remained dynamic, responding to evolving market conditions and economic trends. We strategically deployed capital into sectors and securities that offered compelling risk-adjusted returns, while maintaining a conservative credit profile to safeguard against potential downside risks.

Our commitment to rigorous security selection and active portfolio management guided our investment decisions, allowing us to capitalize on opportunities while managing risk effectively. The Fund's exposure to municipal closed-end funds, high yield corporates, and preferred securities remained stable throughout the year, reflecting our confidence in the underlying fundamentals of these asset classes.

Outlook for 2024

Looking ahead to 2024, we remain optimistic about the Fund's prospects, given the prevailing market environment and attractive yield opportunities across various asset classes. Our focus on prudent risk management and disciplined investment practices will continue to drive performance and deliver value to our investors.

As we embark on the new year, we remain committed to our investment principles and dedicated to navigating the dynamic landscape of global markets. We invite investors to engage with us and explore the opportunities that lie ahead as we strive to deliver consistent returns and preserve capital in an ever-changing financial landscape.

Conclusion

In conclusion, the Bramshill Income Performance UCITS Fund's performance in 2023 reflects our unwavering commitment to excellence and our ability to adapt to changing market conditions. Despite the challenges posed by volatility and uncertainty, our disciplined approach to investment management enabled us to achieve strong results and position the Fund for continued success.

We remain grateful for the trust and confidence placed in us by our investors, and we are committed to upholding the highest standards of integrity, transparency, and accountability in all aspects of our operations. As we look forward to the opportunities and challenges that lie ahead, we are confident in our ability to navigate the complexities of the financial markets and deliver superior value to our stakeholders.

Investment Manager’s Report (unaudited)

From 1 January 2023, through 31 December 2023, the Alpine Merger Arbitrage Fund Class A USD (the “Fund”) has produced a total cumulative return of + 0.13%.

In the period from 1 January 2023, through 31 December 2023, the Fund was invested in a total of 235 different merger arbitrage transactions. 150 of these transactions involved the acquisition of companies organised in the United States, and 85 involved the acquisition of companies organised outside the United States (primarily in the United Kingdom, Australia, Canada, and various EU members). During this period, 226 of these transactions were either successfully completed or were still in the process of being completed at the end of such period. On 31 December 2023, the Fund held investments in 58 different merger arbitrage transactions.

Financial markets must always contend with a wide array of uncertainties, as 2023 has once again clearly demonstrated. In this predictably unpredictable world, Alpine believes that it is of critical importance to select an investment strategy that works in all market environments and avoids severe declines in value.

We have invested in merger arbitrage since the first Alpine fund was started in 1976, and it has been a highly successful, all-weather strategy producing steady and superior returns with low volatility in all market cycles. The average length of an M&A transaction is only a few months. Therefore, a merger arbitrage portfolio is constantly turning over and contains minimal duration risk, adjusting quickly to changes in market conditions. Our arbitrage returns have also benefited in periods of rising interest rates.

Alpine's time-tested approach to merger arbitrage investing has been successfully applied by our experienced team to more than 5,000 M&A transactions for more than 40 years. We are confident that our approach will continue to be successful in the future.

Strategic Investment Funds UCITS Plc – Alpine ESG Merger Arbitrage Fund Investment Manager’s Report (unaudited)

From 1 January 1 2023, through 31 December 2023, the Alpine ESG Merger Arbitrage Fund Class EI Euro (the “Fund”) has produced a total cumulative return of -2.37%.

In the period from 1 January 1 2023, through 31 December 2023, the Fund was invested in a total of 175 different merger arbitrage transactions. 113 of these transactions involved the acquisition of companies organised in the United States, and 62 involved the acquisition of companies organised outside the United States (primarily in the United Kingdom, Australia, Canada, and various EU members). During this period, 166 of these transactions were either successfully completed or were still in the process of being completed at the end of such period. On 31 December 2023, the Fund held investments in 40 different merger arbitrage transactions.

Financial markets must always contend with a wide array of uncertainties, as 2023 has once again clearly demonstrated. In this predictably unpredictable world, Alpine believes that it is of critical importance to select an investment strategy that works in all market environments and avoids severe declines in value.

We have invested in merger arbitrage since the first Alpine fund was started in 1976, and it has been a highly successful, all-weather strategy producing steady and superior returns with low volatility in all market cycles. The average length of an M&A transaction is only a few months. Therefore, a merger arbitrage portfolio is constantly turning over and contains minimal duration risk, adjusting quickly to changes in market conditions. Our arbitrage returns have also benefited in periods of rising interest rates.

Alpine's time-tested approach to merger arbitrage investing has been successfully applied by our experienced team to more than 5,000 M&A transactions for more than 40 years. We are confident that our approach will continue to be successful in the future.

1. General information

Strategic Investment Funds UCITS Plc (the “Company”) is an investment company with variable capital structured as an umbrella fund with segregated liability between sub-funds and organised under the laws of Ireland as a limited liability company pursuant to the Companies Acts 2014 (as amended) and the European Communities (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities), Regulations, 2011 and the Central Bank (Supervision and Enforcement) Act 2013 (Section 48(1)) (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2019 (together the “UCITS Regulations”). The Company was incorporated on 11 April 2013 under registration number 526074.

As at 31 December 2023, the Company consisted of three sub-funds, the Bramshill UCITS Income Performance Fund, the Alpine Merger Arbitrage Fund and the Alpine ESG Merger Arbitrage Fund, which launched on 7 March 2018, 27 July 2018 and 20 September 2022 respectively (individually “Fund” and collectively “Funds”). The SIG|NWI UCITS Global Diversified Fund, which launched on 19 June 2014 was terminated on 12 February 2020. The SIG|Lyrical Fund, which launched on 3 July 2014 was terminated on 8 October 2021 and assets were merged with an unrelated fund external to the Company.

All reference to net assets throughout this document refers to Net Assets Attributable to Holders of Redeemable Participating Shares, unless otherwise stated.

2. Basis of preparation

(a) Basis of accounting

The financial statements of the Company as at and for the financial year ended 31 December 2023 have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) as adopted by the European Union, the Companies Act 2014 and the UCITS Regulations.

(b) Basis of measurement

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for financial instruments at fair value through profit or loss, which are measured at fair value.

The Company’s management has made an assessment of the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern and is satisfied that the Company has the resources to continue in business for the foreseeable future. Furthermore, the management is not aware of any material uncertainties that may cast significant doubt upon the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern. Therefore, the financial statements are prepared on the going concern basis.

(c) Functional and presentation currency

These financial statements are presented in United States Dollar (“USD”), which is the Company’s and each of the Funds functional currency. All financial information presented has been rounded to the nearest USD.

Determination of functional currency

Functional currency is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates. When indicators of the primary economic environment are mixed, management uses its judgement to determine the functional currency that most faithfully represents the economic effect of the underlying transactions, events and conditions. The management has determined that the functional currency of the Company and each of the Funds is USD. The majority of the Fund’s investments and transactions are denominated in USD. Investor subscriptions and redemptions are received and paid in the currency of the relevant share class which is mostly USD.

(d) Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS, as adopted by the European Union, requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected.

Information about judgments made in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effects on the amounts recognised in the financial statements is included in Note 2(c) functional and presentation currency.

Information about significant areas of estimation uncertainty and critical judgements in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on amounts recognised in the financial statements are described in Notes 4 and 5.

Notes to the Financial Statements

2. Basis of preparation (continued)

(e) New standards, amendments and interpretations issued and effective for financial years beginning 1 January 2023

IFRS 17: Insurance Contracts, was issued in May 2017 and have become effective for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2023. It applies to: insurance contracts, including reinsurance contracts, issued by an entity; reinsurance contracts held by an entity; and investment contracts with discretionary participation features issued by an entity that issues insurance contracts. An insurance contract is defined as 'a contract under which one party (the issuer) accepts significant insurance risk from another party (the policyholder) by agreeing to compensate the policyholder if a specified uncertain future event (the insured event) adversely affects the policyholder'.

Amendments to IAS 1 and IFRS Practice Statement 2: Disclosure of Accounting Policies, the amendments require the disclosure of 'material' rather than 'significant' accounting policies. The amendments also provide guidance on the application of materiality to disclosure of accounting policies, assisting entities to provide useful, entity-specific accounting policy information disclosed in the financial statements. To support this amendment, the IASB also amended IFRS Practice Statement 2 "Making Materiality Judgements" to provide guidance on how to apply the concept of materiality to accounting policy disclosures.

Amendments to IAS 8: Definition of Accounting Estimates, the amendments to IAS 8 clarify the distinction between changes in accounting estimates, changes in accounting policies and the correction of errors. They also clarify how entities use measurement techniques and inputs to develop accounting estimates.

Amendments to IAS12: Deferred Tax related to Assets and Liabilities arising from a Single Transaction, the amendments to IAS 12 Income Taxes require companies to recognise deferred tax on transactions that, on initial recognition, give rise to equal amounts of taxable and deductible temporary differences, and will require the recognition of additional deferred tax assets and liabilities.

Amendments to IAS 12: International Tax Reform - Pillar Two Model Rules, became effective 23 May 2023 and the amendment provide a temporary relief from the requirement to recognise and disclose deferred taxes arising from enacted or substantively enacted tax law that implements the Pillar Two model rules, including tax law that implements qualified domestic minimum top-up taxes described in those rules.

The new standard and amendments are not expected to have a significant impact on the Company's financial position, performance or disclosures in its financial statements.

There are no other new standards, amendments or interpretations issued and effective for the financial year beginning 1 January 2023 that have a significant impact on the Company's financial position, performance or disclosures in its financial statements.

(f) New standards and amendments to existing standards issued but not effective for financial years beginning 1 January 2023 and not early adopted

There are no new standards, interpretations or amendments to existing standards that are not yet effective that would be expected to have a significant impact on the Company.

3. Material accounting policies

The accounting policies set out below have been applied consistently to the financial year presented in these financial statements.

(a) Foreign currency

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into USD at the spot exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the reporting date are retranslated into USD at the spot exchange rate at that date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies that are measured at fair value through profit or loss are retranslated into USD at the spot exchange rate at the date that the fair value was determined. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Foreign currency differences arising on retranslation on financial instruments are recognised in the "net gains/(losses) from financial instruments at fair value through profit or loss" line in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

(b) Interest income and interest expense

Interest income and expense on cash and cash equivalents and amounts due to/from brokers are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income using the effective interest method. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments and receipts through the expected life of the financial asset or liability (or, where appropriate, a shorter period) to the carrying amount of the financial asset or liability. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Funds estimate future cash flows considering all contractual terms of the financial instrument, but not future credit losses. Interest received or receivable and interest paid or payable are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income as "interest income" and "interest expense" respectively.

3. Material accounting policies (continued)

(c) Dividend income and dividend expense

Dividend income is recognised when the right to receive income is established. Usually this is the ex-dividend date for equity securities. Dividend income from equity securities is recognised in the "dividend income" line in the Statement of Comprehensive Income. The Fund incurs expenses on short positions in securities equal to the dividends due on these securities. Such dividend expense is recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income when the shareholders' right to receive payment is established.

(d) Net gains/(losses) from financial instruments at fair value through profit or loss

Net gains/(losses) from financial instruments at fair value through profit or loss includes all realised and unrealised fair value changes, foreign exchange differences and coupon interest earned from and paid on debt securities held by the Funds, but excludes dividend income, and dividend expense on short positions. Net realised gains/(losses) from financial instruments at fair value through profit or loss is calculated using the average cost method.

(e) Fees, commissions and other expenses

Fees, commission and other expenses are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income on an accruals basis.

Where necessary, certain prior year figures have been reclassified to conform with the current financial year's presentation for comparative purposes.

(f) Withholding tax

The Company may be liable to taxes (including withholding taxes) in countries other than Ireland on dividend, interest income earned and capital gains arising on its investments. The Company may not be able to benefit from a reduction in the rate of such foreign tax by virtue of the double taxation treaties between Ireland and other countries. The Company may not, therefore, be able to reclaim any foreign withholding tax suffered by it in particular countries. Income that is subject to such tax is recognised gross of the taxes and the corresponding tax is recognised as tax expense.

(g) Financial assets and financial liabilities

(i) Recognition and initial measurement

Financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised initially on the trade date, which is the date the Funds become a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Other financial assets and liabilities are recognised on the date they originated.

Financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are measured initially at fair value, with transaction costs recognised in profit or loss. Financial assets and liabilities not at fair value through profit or loss are recognised initially at fair value plus any transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition or issue.

(ii) Classification

The Funds have adopted the following classifications for financial assets and financial liabilities:

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss:

- Derivative financial instruments, debt securities, investment funds and equity investments.

Financial assets at amortised cost:

- Cash and cash equivalents (including time deposits), cash held with brokers as collateral & margin for derivative contracts, receivables from investments sold, receivable from fund shares sold and other receivables.

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss:

- Short positions in derivative financial instruments.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost:

- Other liabilities - accrued expenses, payables for investments purchased, payable for fund shares repurchased, redeemable participating shares, interest payable and other payables.

Each Fund designates all debt and equity investments at fair value through profit or loss on initial recognition because it manages these securities on a fair value basis in accordance with its business model. Internal reporting and performance measurement of these securities are on a fair value basis.

A non-derivative financial asset with fixed or determinable payments may be classified as financial assets at amortised cost unless it is quoted in an active market or is an asset for which the holder may not recover substantially all of its initial investment, other than because of credit deterioration.

3. Material accounting policies (continued)

(g) Financial assets and financial liabilities (continued)

(iii) Derecognition

Each Fund derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset in a transaction in which substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the Fund neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and does not retain control of the financial asset. Any interest in transferred financial assets that qualify for derecognition that is created or retained by a Fund is recognised as a separate asset or liability in the Statement of Financial Position. On derecognition of a financial asset, the difference between the carrying amount of the asset (or the carrying amount allocated to the portion of the asset derecognised), and the consideration received (including any new asset obtained less any new liability assumed) is recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Each Fund enters into transactions whereby it transfers assets recognised on its Statement of Financial Position, but retains either all or substantially all of the risks and rewards of the transferred assets or a portion of them. If all or substantially all risks and rewards are retained, then the transferred assets are not derecognised. Transfers of assets with retention of all or substantially all risks and rewards include, for example, securities lending and repurchase transactions.

Each Fund derecognises a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged, cancelled or expire.

(iv) Offsetting

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the Statement of Financial Position when, and only when, a Fund has a legal right to set off the recognised amounts and it intends either to settle on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Income and expenses are presented on a net basis only when permitted under IFRS, for example for gains and losses arising from a group of similar transactions such as gains and losses from financial instruments at fair value through profit or loss.

(v) Amortised cost measurement

The amortised cost of a financial asset or liability is the amount at which the financial asset or liability is measured at initial recognition, minus principal repayments, plus or minus the cumulative amortisation using the effective interest method of any difference between the initial amount recognised and the maturity amount, minus any reduction for impairment.

The carrying amounts of financial assets at amortised cost continues to approximate their fair values as at the reporting date. Any impairment would be considered immaterial to the Funds.

(vi) Fair value measurement

The Company has adopted IFRS 13 Fair Value Measurement ("IFRS 13"). The standard defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date (i.e. exit price). The Funds measure the fair value of an instrument using quoted prices in an active market for that instrument. A market is regarded as active if quoted prices are readily and regularly available and represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis.

If a market for a financial instrument is not active, the Funds establish fair value using a valuation technique. Valuation techniques include using recent arm's length transactions between knowledgeable, willing parties (if available), reference to the current fair value of other instruments that are substantially the same, discounted cash flow analyses and option pricing models. The chosen valuation technique makes maximum use of market inputs, relies as little as possible on estimates specific to the Funds, incorporates all factors that market participants would consider in setting a price, and is consistent with accepted economic methodologies for pricing financial instruments. Inputs to valuation techniques reasonably represent market expectations and measures of the risk-return factors inherent in the financial instrument. The Funds calibrate valuation techniques and tests them for validity using prices from observable current market transactions in the same instrument or based on other available observable market data.

The best evidence of the fair value of a financial instrument at initial recognition is the transaction price, i.e. the fair value of the consideration given or received, unless the fair value of that instrument is evidenced by comparison with other observable current market transactions in the same instrument (i.e. without modification or repackaging) or based on a valuation technique whose variables include only data from observable markets. When transaction price provides the best evidence of fair value at initial recognition, the financial instrument is initially measured at the transaction price and any difference between this price and the value initially obtained from a valuation model is subsequently recognised in profit or loss on an appropriate basis over the life of the instrument but not later than when the valuation is supported wholly by observable market data or the transaction is closed out.

For financial reporting purposes under IFRS, if an asset or a liability measured at fair value has a bid price and an ask price, the standard requires valuation to be based on a price within the bid ask spread that is most representative of fair value and allows the use of mid-market pricing or other pricing conventions that are used by market participants as a practical expedient for fair value measurement within a bid-ask spread.

Options

A Fund may purchase and sell (write) call and put options on securities, securities indices and foreign currencies traded on a national securities exchange or in an OTC market.

When a Fund purchases a call or a put option, a premium is paid by the Fund. The premium on purchased put options exercised is subtracted from the proceeds of the sale of the underlying security or foreign currency in determining the realised gain or loss. The premium on purchased call options exercised is included in determining initial fair value of the securities or foreign currency purchased. Premiums paid on the purchase of options which expire unexercised are treated as realised losses. The option is subsequently marked-to-market to reflect the fair value of the option purchased, which is reported within financial assets at fair value through profit or loss on the Statement of Financial Position for each relevant Fund.

If an option which a Fund has written either expires on its stipulated expiration date or a Fund enters into a closing purchase transaction, a Fund realises a gain (or loss, if the cost of a closing purchase transaction exceeds the premium received when the option was sold) without regard to any unrealised gain or loss on the underlying security, and the liability related to such option is extinguished. If a call option which a Fund has written is exercised, the Fund realises a capital gain or loss from the sale of the underlying security, and the proceeds from such sales are increased by the premium originally received. When a put option which a Fund has written is exercised, the amount of the premium originally received will reduce the cost of the security which the Fund purchases upon exercise of the option.

Equity swaps

The Investment Manager may enter into equity swaps which allow a direct exposure to the market, a sector or an individual security. Unlike a forward contract, there is no final maturity, the position being closed out at the discretion of the position taker. Equity swaps are used to gain exposure to share price movements without buying the shares themselves. An equity swap on a company's shares will specify the price of the shares when the contract was started. The contract is an agreement to pay out cash on the difference between the starting share price and when the contract is closed. Daily fluctuations in the value of an equity swap are recorded for financial reporting purposes as unrealised gains or losses by the Funds and are recorded as a realised gain or loss when the position is closed.

Forward contracts

As part of the Funds investment strategy, the Funds enter into certain forward contracts, all of which are classified as trading instruments and recognised on the Statement of Financial Position at fair value. The Investment Manager use of forward foreign exchange contracts may include, but is not limited to, altering the currency exposure of securities held, hedging against exchange risks, increasing exposure to a currency and shifting exposure to currency fluctuations from one currency to another.

The fair value of open positions in forward contracts is calculated as the difference between the contract price and fair value based on reported market prices of the underlying contract variables. Realised and unrealised gains and losses are included in the Statement of Comprehensive Income. Realised gains or losses include net gains or losses on contracts which have settled.

Futures

Futures contracts are commitments either to purchase or sell a financial instrument, currency, commodity or an index at a specified future date for a specified price and may be settled in cash or another financial asset. Futures are standardised exchange-traded contracts. Initial margin requirements for futures are met in cash or other instruments, and changes in the future contract values are settled daily. Futures contracts have little credit risk because the counterparties are futures exchanges. Daily fluctuations in the value of a futures contract are recorded for financial reporting purposes as unrealised gains or losses by the Funds and are recorded as a realised gain or loss when the position is closed.

(h) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents (including time deposits) comprise deposits with banks and highly liquid financial assets with original maturities of less than three months that are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in their fair value and are used by the Funds in the management of short term commitments, other than cash collateral provided in respect of derivatives, securities sold short and securities borrowing transactions.

(i) Balances due from brokers and securities received as collateral

Securities borrowed, if any, which the Funds subsequently sells are recognised in the Statement of Financial Position as short sold positions ("financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss"). The cash collateral on the borrowed securities is separately presented as cash held with brokers as collateral and margin for derivative contracts.

3. Material accounting policies (continued)

(i) Balances due from brokers and securities received as collateral (continued)

Cash collateral for borrowed securities is included within cash held with brokers as collateral and margin for derivative contracts.

Balances due from brokers are initially measured at fair value plus incremental direct transaction costs, and subsequently measured at their amortised cost using the effective interest method.

(j) Broker cash held as collateral/repayable to brokers for financial derivative instruments

Broker cash received as collateral is recorded as an asset on the Statement of Financial Position as cash and cash equivalents and a related liability to repay the collateral is disclosed as cash due to brokers as collateral and margin for derivative contracts. Cash collateral is disclosed at fair value being the value of collateral.

(k) Redeemable participating shares

The redeemable participating shares are classified as financial liabilities in accordance with IAS 32 Financial Instruments Presentation ("IAS 32") and are measured at the present value of the redemption amount that is payable at the Statement of Financial Position date if a shareholder exercised their right to have the Company repurchase their shares. In accordance with the Prospectus the Company is contractually obliged to redeem shares at dealing price.

Redeemable participating shares are redeemable at the Shareholder's option. The redeemable shares can be purchased at the Company at any time for cash equal to the proportionate share of the Funds' Net Asset Value.

(l) Investment funds

The Funds' investments in other funds ("Investment funds") are subject to the terms and conditions of the respective Investment funds offering documentation. The investments in Investment funds are valued based on the latest available redemption price of such units for each Investment fund, as determined by the Investment funds' administrators. The Funds review the details of the reported information obtained from the Investment funds and consider:

- the liquidity of the investee fund or its underlying investments;
- the value date of the NAV provided;
- any restrictions on redemptions; and
- the basis of accounting and, in instances where the basis of accounting is other than fair value, fair valuation information provided by the Investment funds advisors.

If necessary, the Funds make adjustments to the NAV of various Investment funds to obtain the best estimate of fair value. Other net changes in fair value on financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss in the Statement of Comprehensive Income includes the change in fair value of each Investment fund.

(m) Transaction costs

Transaction costs are incremental costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, issue or disposal of a financial asset or financial liability. An incremental cost is one that would not have been incurred if the entity had not acquired, issued or disposed of the financial instrument. When a financial asset or financial liability is recognised initially, an entity shall measure it at its fair value through profit or loss plus, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial asset or financial liability.

Transaction costs on the purchase and sale of equity swaps, Investment funds, bonds and swaps are included in the purchase and sale price of the investment. They cannot be practically or reliably gathered as they are embedded in the cost of the investment and cannot be separately verified or disclosed.

Transaction costs on purchases and sales of equities, futures and options are included in net gains/(losses) on investments in the Statement of Comprehensive Income of the Funds. Custody transactions costs are included in custodian fees in the Statement of Comprehensive Income for the Funds. These costs are separately identifiable transaction costs and the total costs incurred by the Company during the financial year are disclosed in Note 7.

(n) Organisation set up cost

All fees and expenses (including any listing costs) relating to the Company's set up of its initial Funds, the fees of the Company's advisers ("organisation set up costs") all in aggregate not exceeding €40,000 (relating to the first initial Fund) will be borne by the Company and will be amortised over the first five financial years of the Company's lifetime or such other period as the Directors may determine and advise to Shareholders, for example via the Company's financial statements. The cost of establishing subsequent Funds will be charged to the relevant Fund, together with an allocation of the original set up costs of the Company. Setup costs for Alpine Merger Arbitrage Fund of USD Nil, for Bramshill UCITS Income Performance Fund of USD Nil and for Alpine ESG Merger Arbitrage Fund of USD 52,665 were expensed to the Company during the financial year ended 31 December 2023. Setup costs for Alpine Merger Arbitrage Fund of USD 105, for Bramshill UCITS Income Performance Fund USD 35 and for Alpine ESG Merger Arbitrage Fund of USD 41,136 were expensed to the Company during the financial year ended 31 December 2022. Due to the difference in the treatment of these costs there is a difference in the Net Asset Value per the financial statements and the Offering Memorandum. For more information, please refer to supplement C. Reconciliation of net assets and Net Asset Value per share from pages 106 to 110.

4. Financial risk management

(a) Introduction and overview

The Funds have exposure to the following specific risks from financial instruments:

- Credit risk
- Liquidity Risk
- Market value risk
- Opportunity risk
- Legal risk

This note presents information about the Funds' exposure to each of the above risks, the Funds' objectives, policies and processes for measuring and managing risk.

Risk management framework

The Funds maintain positions in a variety of derivative and non-derivative financial instruments in accordance with its investment management strategy. A Fund's investment portfolio may comprise quoted equity investments, debt securities, and derivative financial instruments that they intend to hold for an indefinite period of time.

HedgeMark Risk Analytics, LLC has been appointed as the Risk Service Provider of the Funds.

HedgeMark Risk Analytics, LLC (the "Risk Service Provider") monitors, measures and manages the investment in and use of financial derivative instruments ("FDIs") by the Funds.

The Risk Service Provider will prepare an annual report for the Directors on the FDI positions held and the Investment Manager's performance regarding the risk management process. The Risk Service Provider will also provide regular updates to the Investment Manager and the Directors in relation to the risk management process and a formal review of the compliance, control and monitoring functions carried out by the Risk Service Provider.

The Board of Directors are responsible for monitoring compliance as it relates to the functions undertaken by the Risk Service Provider.

(b) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty to a financial instrument will fail to discharge an obligation or commitment that it has entered into with the Funds, resulting in a financial loss to the Funds. It arises principally from debt securities held, and also from financial derivative assets, credit default swaps, cash and cash equivalents, and balances due from brokers.

Management of credit risk

Credit risk refers to the possibility of losing principal due to the failure of a counterparty to perform as required, due to insolvency or bankruptcy. Credit risk is incurred on any transaction where the exchange of securities for cash is not simultaneous. The Funds' policy over credit risk is to minimise exposure to counterparties with perceived higher risk of default by dealing only with counterparties that meet the credit standards set out in the Funds' prospectus and by taking in collateral. The Administrator has the responsibility for monitoring transaction based credit risk. Its duties include confirming that counterparties meet the Eligibility Criteria for UCITS over-the-counter ("OTC") Counterparties.

4. Financial risk management (continued)

Counterparty risk

Counterparty risk occurs where the derivative contract has a positive market value. The counterparty exposure on the Funds is monitored daily by the Investment managers in accordance with the policies and procedures in place.

A positive mark-to-market approach is used to quantify and monitor a Fund's credit risk exposure to counterparties to OTC derivatives. A Fund may net the derivative positions with the same counterparty provided that the Fund is able to legally enforce netting arrangements with the counterparty. Netting is only permissible with respect to OTC derivative instruments with the same counterparty and not in relation to the any other exposure a Fund may have with the same counterparty.

Settlement risk

The Funds' activities may give rise to risk at the time of settlement of transactions. Settlement risk is the risk of loss due to the failure of an entity to honour its obligations to deliver cash, securities or other assets as contractually agreed.

For the majority of transactions the Funds mitigate this risk by conducting settlements through the Principal Brokers to ensure that a trade is settled only when both parties have fulfilled their contractual settlement obligations.

Exposure to credit risk

The Funds' maximum credit risk exposure (before collateral and other credit enhancements) at the Statement of Financial Position date is represented by the respective carrying amounts of the debt securities, financial derivative assets and cash held with brokers as collateral and margin for derivative contracts in the Statement of Financial Position. The risks on some of these exposures may be mitigated by collateral held. Credit ratings for each counterparty are disclosed on the Schedule of Investments.

Depository risk and credit risk from counterparties

State Street Bank and Trust Company act as the Global Depository for State Street Custodial Services (Ireland) Limited (the "Depository"). Bankruptcy or insolvency by the Depository may cause the Company's rights with respect to the cash and securities held by the Depository to be delayed or limited.

The majority of cash and securities are held via the Depository, which had a credit rating of the Depository AA- (31 December 2022: AA-) per Standard & Poor ("S&P").

In the event of insolvency or bankruptcy of the Depository, the Company's assets are segregated and protected and this further reduces counterparty risk. Cash, unlike securities, cannot be registered in the name of, or identified as beneficially owned by a client, nor can it practically be held in physical segregation. However, for all major currencies, the cash at the Sub-Custodian is maintained in correspondent accounts of State Street Bank and Trust Company. The Company's deposits with State Street Bank and Trust Company is not conditioned upon the solvency of the correspondent bank.

The cash collateral held on Bramshill UCITS Income Performance Fund of USD 532,232 (31 December 2022: USD 3,280,085) is held with Wells Fargo Bank. Wells Fargo Bank has a credit rating of A+ (31 December 2022: A+) per S&P.

The Investment Manager may cause the Funds to enter into transactions in OTC markets which will expose the Funds to the credit of its counterparties and their ability to satisfy the terms of such contracts. For example, the Funds may enter into forward contracts, options and swap arrangements, each of which expose the Funds to the risk that the counterparty may default on its obligations to perform under the relevant contract. In addition, the bankruptcy or default of a Principal Broker or brokers or clearing-houses by or through which transactions are carried or settled may result in losses to the Funds. In the event of bankruptcy or insolvency of any counterparty, Principal Broker or brokers or clearing-house, the Funds could experience delays in liquidating investments and significant losses, including declines in the value of its investment during the period in which the Funds seek to enforce its rights, inability to realise any gains on its investment during such period and fees and expenses incurred in enforcing its rights. The Funds may only have limited counterparties, the Principal Brokers, and therefore any bankruptcy or default of a Principal Broker is likely to have a significant negative impact on the Funds.

At the reporting date, the Company holds USD 1,157,078 (31 December 2022: USD 5,874,894) of cash held with counterparties in respect of derivative positions, refer to the Combined Statement of Financial Position of the individual Funds for full details.

The Funds may invest in a wide range of derivative products for investment purposes and/or efficient portfolio management purposes. Such derivative products could include exchange traded and certain OTC derivative instruments, including complex derivative instruments which seek to modify or replace the investment performance of particular securities, currencies, interest rates, indices (including those relating to commodities) or markets on a leveraged or unleveraged basis. These investments may be extremely volatile and involve risks that can result in a loss of all or part of an investment, including, but not limited to, interest rate and credit risk volatility, world and local market price and demand, and general economic factors and activity. Price movements of commodities, futures and options contracts and payments pursuant to swap agreements are influenced by, among other things, interest rates, changing supply and demand relationships, trade, fiscal, monetary and exchange control programs and policies of governments, and national and international political and economic events and policies.

Foreign currency contract prices are influenced by, among other things, political events, changes in balances of payments and trade, domestic and international rates of inflation, international trade restrictions, and currency devaluations and revaluations. In addition, governments from time to time directly intervene in certain markets, particularly those in currencies, financial instrument futures and options. Such intervention often is intended to influence prices and may, together with other factors, cause all of such markets to move rapidly in the same direction because of, among other things, interest rate fluctuations. Derivatives may involve significant amounts of leverage, which can substantially magnify market movements and result in losses greater than the amount of the investment.

The Funds may enter into credit derivatives to isolate and transfer the credit risk associated with a particular reference asset. Credit default swaps provide a measure of protection against defaults of debt issuers. The Funds use of credit default swaps does not assure their use will be effective or will have the desired result. A Fund may either be the buyer or seller in a credit default swap transaction. Credit default swaps are transactions under which the parties obligations depend on whether a credit event has occurred in relation to the reference asset. The credit events are specified in the contract and are intended to identify the occurrence of a significant deterioration in the creditworthiness of the reference asset. On settlement, credit default products may be cash settled or involve the physical delivery of an obligation of the reference entity following a default.

The buyer in a credit default swap contract is obligated to pay the seller a periodic stream of payments over the term of the contract provided that no event of default on an underlying reference asset has occurred. If a credit event occurs, the seller must pay the buyer the full notional value of the reference asset that may have little or no value. If the Fund is a buyer and no credit event occurs the Funds losses will be limited to the periodic stream of payments over the term of the contract. As a seller, the Funds will receive a fixed rate of income throughout the term of the contract, provided that there is no credit event. If a credit event occurs, the seller must pay the buyer the full notional value of the reference obligation.

Credit spread is expressed as the additional premium to a benchmark yield curve or risk-free interest rate. The credit spread is implied on the market of any fixed income security in perspective of the issuer credit rating or the market quotes of credit default swaps protections linked to any credit event default of the issuer.

The notional amount of credit default swaps represents the maximum potential amount the Fund could be required to make as a seller of credit protection or receive as a buyer of credit protection if a credit event occurs as defined under the terms of a particular swap agreement. The notional amounts for purchased or sold protection are disclosed in the Schedule of Investments.

Derivative financial instruments

The Funds may invest in a wide range of OTC derivative products. Such OTC derivative products may be illiquid and are sometimes subject to larger spreads than exchange-traded derivative transactions. If the Funds engage in such transactions, the Funds will be exposed to the risk that the counterparty (i.e. the Principal Brokers) will fail to perform its obligations under the transaction.

Netting

Purchased and sold derivatives positions may be netted where they:

- relate to the same underlying asset, or, in the case of derivatives on fixed income securities, are highly correlated, have the same currency exposure and are both cash settled;
- are both liquid and marked to market daily; and
- if one of the positions is exercised, the Funds have cover for the outstanding position.

For calculating global exposure general hedging transactions may be used to reduce exposure. The Funds have an International Swaps and Derivatives Association ("ISDA") master netting agreement in place to facilitate netting where permitted.

In order to better define its contractual rights and to secure rights that will help the Company mitigate its counterparty risk, the Company may enter into an ISDA Master Agreement ("ISDA Master Agreement") or similar agreement with its OTC derivative contract counterparties. An ISDA Master Agreement is a bilateral agreement between the Company and a counterparty that governs OTC derivatives and foreign exchange contracts and typically contains, among other things, collateral posting terms and netting provisions in the event of a default and/or termination event. Under an ISDA Master Agreement, each Fund has a contractual right to offset with the counterparty certain derivative financial instruments' payables and/or receivables with collateral held and/or posted and create one single net payment. The provisions of the ISDA Master Agreement typically permit a single net payment in the event of default including the bankruptcy or insolvency of the counterparty. However, bankruptcy or insolvency laws of a particular jurisdiction may impose restrictions on or prohibitions against the right of offset in bankruptcy, insolvency or other events.

Cash and cash equivalents

The Funds may also hold ancillary liquid assets such as cash, bank deposits, collateral, stock, bonds, short-term certificates, commercial papers, treasury-bills and money market instruments. The Funds' holding of such assets may be significant where the Investment Manager believes that market conditions so warrant.

The Funds' cash and cash equivalents are held mainly with State Street Custodial Services (Ireland) Limited, which is rated AA-, Wells Fargo which is rated A+ and UBS Securities LLC which is rated A+ (31 December 2022: State Street Custodial Services (Ireland) Limited, which was rated AA-, Wells Fargo which was rated A+ and UBS Securities LLC which was rated A+) based on S&P rating agency ratings.

The Funds' investment positions are all held by UBS Securities LLC, J.P. Morgan and Wells Fargo which were rated A+, A+ and A+, respectively (31 December 2022: UBS Securities LLC, J.P. Morgan and Wells Fargo which were rated A+, A+ and A+, respectively) based on S&P rating agency ratings.

Balances due from brokers

Balances due from brokers result from margin accounts, cash collateral for borrowed securities and sale transactions awaiting settlement. Credit risk relating to unsettled transactions is considered small due to the short settlement period involved and the high credit quality of the brokers used.

(c) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Funds will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations arising from its financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset, or that such obligations will have to be settled in a manner disadvantageous to the Funds.

Subject to the relevant Investment Restrictions, the Funds may make investments that are subject to legal or other restrictions on transfer or for which no liquid market exists on an exchange or in an OTC market. The market prices, if any, of such investments tend to be more volatile than those for more liquid investments and it may be impossible to sell such investments when desired or to realise their fair value in the event of a sale. There may be substantial delays in attempting to sell securities for which no liquid market exists, during which the value of such assets may move materially up or down. Although these securities may be resold in privately negotiated transactions, the prices realised from these sales could be less than those originally paid, and may deviate from the price ascribed to the securities in the calculation of the Funds' NAV.

The Funds' expected cash flows on these instruments do not vary significantly from this analysis, except for net assets attributable to the holders of redeemable shares which the Funds have a contractual obligation to redeem within 5 business days. The liability for redemption of shares is therefore included in the earliest potential period, less than three months. The amounts above are compiled on a net basis for derivatives that are net settled.

4. Financial risk management (continued)

(d) Market risk

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices, such as interest rates, equity prices, foreign exchange rates and credit spreads (not relating to changes in the obligor's/issuer's credit standing) will affect the Funds' income or the value of its holdings of financial instruments. The objective of market risk management is to manage and control market risk exposures within acceptable parameters, while optimising the return on risk.

The Investment Managers are responsible for assessing the market risks and benefits for their portfolios.

An overview of the Funds' investment portfolios at the Statement of Financial Position date is set out in the Schedule of Investments.

Market Value Risk

Market value risk refers to the possibility of being unable to complete a transaction at the agreed upon price because of the failure of a counter party to perform as required. Market value risk is incurred on every transaction, regardless of whether or not an effective means of substituting an alternative counter party exists, because the price of the security itself may have changed in the interim. Each Investment Managers' and Active Trading Advisors' portfolio managers/traders are responsible for assessing the benefits of increased liquidity, versus the risks of trade failures, for all portfolios.

Opportunity Risk

Opportunity risk refers to the possibility of missing an opportunity to purchase or sell the security of an approved unsecured book value issuer at a particular yield because of the failure of a counter party to perform as required. Opportunity risk exists on every book value transaction, regardless of whether or not an effective means of substituting an alternative counter party exists, because the yield of the security itself may have changed in the interim. Each Investment Managers' and Active Trading Advisors' portfolio managers/traders are responsible for assessing the benefits.

Legal Risk

Where OTC instruments are utilised the contracts are subject to review by the Active Trading Advisor/Investment Manager for the purpose of assessing enforceability and where appropriate, internal and external legal opinion is sought. The derivative techniques used may be subject to changes in law or regulations and/or regulatory action which may affect their value. Internal and/or external legal opinion is sought if necessary.

Global Exposure

Under the UCITS Regulations, the Investment Managers are required to employ a risk management process which enables them to accurately monitor and manage the global exposure of the Funds to FDIs. The Alpine Merger Arbitrage and Alpine ESG Merger Arbitrage Fund use a methodology known as Value at Risk ("VaR") to measure their global exposure while the SIG|Lyrical Fund and Bramshill UCITS Income Performance Fund utilise the "Commitment Approach".

VaR is an advanced risk measurement methodology recommended by the Central Bank. In calculating the VaR, the following parameters will be used:

- a confidence level of 99%;
- a holding period equivalent of 20 days;
- a historical observation period, where applicable, of at least one year;

The commitment approach aggregates the underlying market or notional values of FDIs.

The calculation of the VaR limit during the year for the Funds was as follows:

Alpine Merger Arbitrage Fund	-5.36%	-6.06%	-4.04%	-4.89%
Alpine ESG Merger Arbitrage Fund	-6.44%	-7.28%	-4.84%	-5.87%

Alpine Merger Arbitrage Fund	-4.57%	-9.91%	-3.41%	-5.20%
Alpine ESG Merger Arbitrage Fund	-5.49%	-5.80%	0.00%	-5.32%

The leverage for the Funds was as follows:

Leverage at 31 December 2023	Average Leverage	Highest Level
Bramshill UCITS Income Performance Fund*	n/a	n/a
Alpine Merger Arbitrage Fund	179.56%	217.64%
Alpine ESG Merger Arbitrage Fund	150.39%	180.48%

Leverage at 31 December 2022	Average Leverage	Highest Level
Bramshill UCITS Income Performance Fund*	n/a	n/a
Alpine Merger Arbitrage Fund	203.59%	258.42%
Alpine ESG Merger Arbitrage Fund	170.98%	265.67%

* The Bramshill UCITS Income Performance Fund does not hold many complex derivative instruments and so does not require the measurement of leverage.

The Funds use absolute VaR to measure global exposure. This is appropriate in light of the types of derivatives used by the Funds and the nature of the Funds investment policies which would make comparisons to benchmarks of very limited relevance.

The use of VaR has limitations because it is based on historical correlations and volatilities in market prices and assumes that future price movements will follow a statistical distribution. Due to the fact that VaR relies significantly on historical data to provide information and may not clearly predict the future changes and modifications of the risk factors, the probability of large market moves may be underestimated if changes in risk factors fail to align with the given distribution assumption. VaR may also be under- or over-estimated due to the assumptions placed on risk factors and the relationship between such factors for specific instruments.

The Funds' potential exposure to gains or losses through derivative instruments, in particular equity swaps and option contracts, is related to the underlying components of those derivatives and may be greater than the unrealised gains or losses recorded for those positions at the reporting date.

Concentration risk

A Fund's assets may be invested in a limited number of investments which may be concentrated in a few countries, industries, sectors of the economy or issuers, as a result of which the negative impact on the value of the Funds' assets from adverse movements in a particular economy or industry or in the value of securities of a particular issuer could be considerably greater than if the Funds were not permitted to concentrate its investments to such an extent.

Exposure to interest rate risk

The Funds are exposed to the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of its financial instruments will fluctuate as a result of changes in market interest rates. An increase in interest rates during a period when an event driven transaction is pending may, among other things, increase the financial costs of such transaction or reduce the earnings of the parties involved in such transaction either of which, in turn, may affect the viability of such transaction.

The Investment Manager is responsible for assessing the interest rate risks and benefits for their portfolios.

Cash and cash equivalents held by the Company earn interest on a floating rate basis, and are subject to minimal amounts of interest rate risk.

The following funds have material interest rate risk.

Exposure to currency risk

The Funds invest in financial instruments and enters into transactions that are denominated in currencies other than its functional currency. As at 31 December 2023 and 31 December 2022 these consisted of equity swaps, derivatives, equities and debt securities. Consequently, the Funds are exposed to risks that the exchange rate of its currency relative to other foreign currencies may change in a manner that has an adverse effect on the fair value or future cash flows of that portion of the Funds' financial assets or liabilities denominated in currencies other than USD. Any expected loss arising from this is covered by the VaR analysis

The following tables summarise the exposure to foreign currency risk of the Funds as at 31 December 2023 and 31 December 2022.

Sensitivity Analysis

As Bramshill UCITS Income Performance Fund is not subject to VAR, sensitivity analysis is presented on each type of market risk that the Fund is exposed.

(i) Foreign currency risk

The impact of a 5% exchange rate increase between USD and the foreign currencies relevant to the Fund is USD 110,424 (31 December 2022: USD 381,276). A 5% decrease would have an equivalent but opposite effect.

The Fund's currency risk is managed through a combination of ways outlined in the Prospectus.

(ii) Interest rate risk

A 5% change in the interest rates, with all other variables held constant, would result in USD 8,677,003 (31 December 2022: USD 7,030,973) change in Net Assets.

4. Financial risk management (continued)

(d) Market risk (continued)

(iii) Market price risk

Market price risk is the risk that the value of the investment will fluctuate as a result of changes in market prices (other than those arising from interest rate risk or currency risk), whether caused by factors specific to an individual investment, its issuer or all factors affecting all instruments traded in the market.

A 10% change in the actual market prices at the year-end date, with all other variables held constant, would result in USD 21,273,425 (31 December 2022: USD 18,048,968) change in Net Assets.

(e) Operational risk

Operational risk is the risk of direct or indirect loss arising from a wide variety of causes associated with the processes, technology and infrastructure supporting the Funds' activities with financial instruments either internally within the Funds or externally at the Funds' service providers, and from external factors other than credit, market and liquidity risks such as those arising from legal and regulatory requirements and generally accepted standards of investment management behaviour.

The Funds are also exposed to operational risks such as custody risk. Custody risk is the risk of loss of securities held in custody occasioned by the insolvency or negligence of the Depository. Although an appropriate legal framework is in place that eliminates the risk of loss of value of the securities held by the Depository, in the event of its failure, the ability of the Funds to transfer the securities might be temporarily impaired.

(f) Capital management

The Company is not subject to externally imposed capital requirements.

The redeemable shares issued by the Funds deal daily or weekly depending on the terms of the particular fund, and provide an investor with the right to require redemption for cash at a value proportionate to the investor's share in the Funds' net assets at each redemption date and are classified as liabilities. See Note 10 for a description of the terms of the redeemable shares issued by the Funds. The Funds' objectives in managing the redeemable shares are to ensure a stable base to maximise returns to all investors. An anti-dilution levy may be deducted from repurchase monies at the discretion of the Directors. If the Funds receive a request for the repurchase of shares in respect of 10% or more of the outstanding shares of the Funds on any dealing day is submitted, the Directors may restrict the total number of shares repurchased in which case requests will be scaled down pro rata. The Funds may also, with the consent of a shareholder, satisfy any repurchase application by the transfer of assets of equivalent value in specie to the shareholder provided such transfer is deemed equitable by the Directors and Depository and is not prejudicial to the interest of the remaining shareholders.

(g) Efficient Portfolio Management

The Investment Manager may employ investment techniques and FDIs for investment purposes or for efficient portfolio management ("EPM") purposes. The use of such techniques and instruments will generally be made for one or more of the following reasons; the reduction of risk, reduction of cost or the generation of additional capital or income for the Funds with no, or an acceptably low level of, risk and for hedging purposes and/or to alter currency exposure, subject to the conditions and within the limits from time to time set forth in the UCITS Investment Restrictions and any further guidelines that may be agreed from time to time.

The use of derivatives for the purposes of EPM is not otherwise expected to raise the risk profile of the Funds or result in higher volatility.

Any direct and indirect operational costs and/or fees which arise as a result of the use of efficient portfolio management techniques which may be deducted from the revenue delivered to the Funds shall be at normal commercial rates and shall not include any hidden revenue. Such direct or indirect costs and fees will be paid to the relevant counterparty to the transaction, which, in the case of FDIs used for currency hedging purposes, may include the Depository or entities related to the Depository. All revenues generated through the use of efficient portfolio management techniques, net of direct and indirect operational costs and fees will be returned to the Funds.

No repurchase agreements or stock lending agreements were in place for the Funds during the financial year ended 31 December 2023 or 31 December 2022.

The Bramshill UCITS Income Performance Fund, the Alpine Merger Arbitrage Fund and the Alpine ESG Merger Arbitrage Fund used FDIs as disclosed on the Schedules of Investments.

5. Fair value hierarchy

Key sources of estimation uncertainty

Determining fair values

The determination of fair value for financial assets and liabilities for which there is no observable market price requires the use of valuation techniques as described in Note 3(g)(vi). For financial instruments that trade infrequently and have little price transparency, fair value is less objective, and requires varying degrees of judgement depending on liquidity, concentration, uncertainty of market factors, pricing assumptions and other risks affecting the specific instrument. See also “Valuation of financial instruments” below.

Valuation of financial instruments

The Funds’ accounting policy on fair value measurements is discussed in Note 3(g)(vi). The Funds measure fair values using the following fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements:

- Level 1: Quoted market price (unadjusted) in an active market for an identical instrument.
- Level 2: Valuation techniques based on observable inputs, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices). This category includes instruments valued using: quoted market prices in active markets for similar instruments; quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are considered less than active; or other valuation techniques where all significant inputs are directly or indirectly observable from market data.
- Level 3: Valuation techniques using significant unobservable inputs. This category includes all instruments where the valuation technique includes inputs not based on observable data and the unobservable inputs have a significant effect on the instrument’s valuation. This category includes instruments that are valued based on quoted prices for similar instruments where significant unobservable adjustments or assumptions are required to reflect differences between the instruments.

Fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities that are traded in active markets are based on quoted market prices or dealer price quotations. For all other financial instruments the Funds determine fair values using valuation techniques.

Valuation techniques include net present value and discounted cash flow models, comparison to similar instruments for which market observable prices exist and other valuation models. The objective of valuation techniques is to arrive at a fair value determination that reflects the price of the financial derivative instrument at the reporting date that would have been determined by market participants acting at arm’s length.

The Funds use widely recognised valuation models for determining the fair value of common financial instruments that use only observable market data and require little management judgement and estimation. Observable prices and model inputs are usually available in the market for listed debt and equity securities, exchange traded derivatives and simple OTC derivatives. Availability of observable market prices and model inputs reduces the need for management judgement and estimation and also reduces the uncertainty associated with determination of fair values. Availability of observable market prices and inputs varies depending on the products and markets and is prone to changes based on specific events and general conditions in the financial markets.

5. Fair value hierarchy (continued)

The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

In relation to other assets and other liabilities not carried at fair value but for which fair value is disclosed, these assets and liabilities have been classified as Level 2 of the hierarchy in accordance with IFRS (31 December 2022: Level 2).

Transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy are deemed to have occurred at the end of the year and are deemed to have occurred when the pricing source or methodology used to price an investment has changed which triggers a change in level as defined under IFRS 13.

The Funds did not hold any investments classified within Level 3 as at 31 December 2023 and 31 December 2022. There were no transfers between levels during the financial years ended 31 December 2023 and 31 December 2022.

6. Unconsolidated structured entities

Involvement in unconsolidated structured entities

A structured entity is an entity that has been designed so that voting or similar rights are not the dominant factor in deciding who controls the entity, as any voting rights relate to administrative tasks only and the relevant activities are directed by means of contractual arrangements. A structured entity often has some or all of the following features or attributes; restricted activities, a narrow or well defined objective, such as to provide investment opportunities for investors by passing on the risks or rewards associated with the assets of the structured entity to investors, insufficient equity to permit the structured entity to finance its activities without subordinate financial support and financing in the form of multiple contractually linked instruments to investors that create concentrations of credit or other risks (tranches).

The Funds have determined that its investment in Investment funds represent investments in unconsolidated structured entities.

The Funds have concluded that unlisted open-ended Investment funds in which it invests, but that it does not consolidate, meet the definition of structured entities because:

1. The voting rights in the Investment funds are not the dominant rights in deciding who controls them as they relate to administrative tasks only;
2. Each Investment fund's activities are restricted by its Prospectus; and
3. The Investment funds have narrow and well-defined objectives to provide investment opportunities to investors.

12. Share class hedging

In respect of the share classes in non-base currency, it is the individual Fund's intention (where practicable) to hedge the currency exposure of holders of such classes. The adoption of this strategy may substantially limit holders of these classes from benefiting if the class currencies fall against the USD/EUR and/or against the other currencies in which the assets of the Funds are denominated. All costs and gains/losses of such hedging transactions will accrue solely to the holders of the hedged classes. The strategy is undertaken and managed on behalf of the Funds by the currency manager who is appointed by the Company to undertake and manage the class currency hedging of the Funds.

15. Significant events during the financial year

Following Russia's invasion of Ukraine on 24 February 2022, various states imposed sanctions and restrictions on the Russian state, Russian companies and individuals linked to Russia. The invasion has had a significant impact on markets with increased volatility, supply chain disruption and the potential to create severe disruption to oil, gas, and grain markets on particular.

The SIF funds have no direct exposure to Russia or Ukraine but the events did impact global markets negatively. The Investment Managers are actively monitoring and continue to manage the Funds' assets within the investment and risk parameters that have been established. The Directors will continue to monitor developments in the region as there is potential for a serious destabilising economic effect which could jeopardise the global economy.

The conflict in Israel that started in October 2023 may have a major impact on global markets. Any impact on the evolving situation will be monitored.

Patrick Robinson was appointed to the position of the office of non-executive Director on 26 January 2023.

There have been no other significant events during the financial year which are deemed material to these financial statements.

C. Reconciliation of net assets and net asset value per share

In accordance with the Funds' Prospectus and under IFRS 13, the net assets of the Fund are valued using last traded prices. For financial reporting purposes under IFRS, the cost of establishment was written off as incurred, however the Prospectus permits these costs to be amortised over a five year period for the purpose of the calculation of the dealing NAV.

A reconciliation of the net assets and NAV per share between the amounts computed as per the Funds' Prospectus and the amounts computed in accordance with IFRS is as follows. All amounts are in the base currency of the share class, not the Funds.

- Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy¹?

Yes

In fossil gas

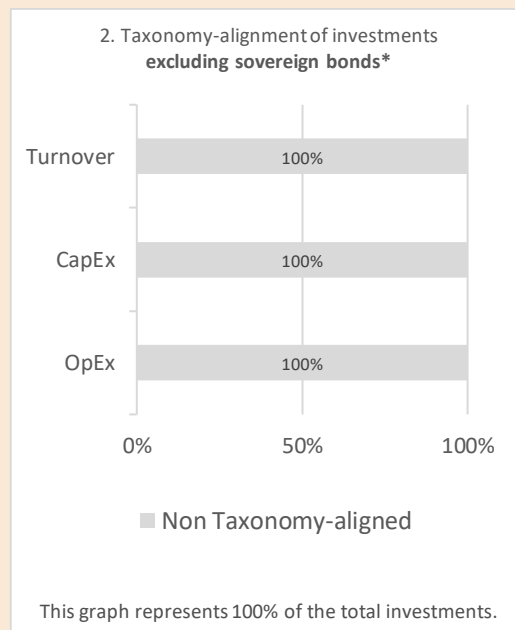

In nuclear energy

No

The graphs below show in green the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy.
